BATTLE FOUGHT AT LAFFOON AND THREE INJURED

Will Walker and Son
Knocked Out With Axe
by Mrs. Tack Walker.

Tack Walker, knife wounds on head and face. Condition serious.
William Walker, cut on head with ax.
Emmett Walker, struck on head with ax.

A battle raged at Laffoon, in the southeast portion of Daviess county, and that there were no fatalities was not the fault of the participants, as two of those engaged in the fight were left on the field in an unconscious condition after having been struck with an ax.

The fight was strictly a family affair. Tack Walker and William Walker are brothers. They are both married and reside in the same house. They had a dispute Saturday afternoon. No one seems to have a clear understanding of the origin of the trouble. One report says the men had been drinking. However, they were engaged in a lively fight when Mrs. Tack Walker and Emmett Walker, son of William Walker, appeared on the scene, the former to assist her husband, and the latter to give aid to his father. Mrs. Walker is said to have secured an ax. William Walker was said to have been wielding a knife, inflicting severe wounds on Tack's face and head. Then it was that Mrs. Walker brought her ax into the battle. William Walker and his son were both knocked out by Mrs. Walker.

The father and son were left on the ground in an unconscious condition. It was thought that both had been killed. Tack Walker was assisted to the home of Will Champness, where he and his wife spent last night. Will Walker and his son were given attention at the home of Kern Alvey.

Dr. Schultz, of Pleasant Ridge, attended the three injured men. He stated at midnight that Tack Walker's condition is serious. He has several knife wounds on the head and face. One cut is nine inches in length. The injuries of Will Walker and his son, Emmett, are not serious.

Tack and Will Walker are sons of J. H. Walker, who conducts a store at Laffoon.

The greatest of excitement was created in the Whitesville and Laffoon neighborhoods as a result of the fight. An effort was made to get officers in Owensboro to go to the scene of battle, but later reports were to the effect that the belligerents had been carried from the field of battle and there was more need of a physician than of an officer.

Warrants Issued For W. Walker and Son.

As a sequel to the three cornered fight at Laffoon Saturday afternoon between Tack Walker and his wife and William Walker and son, Emmett, in which Tack Walker was seriously cut about the head and face, William Walker, cut on the head and Emmett Walker struck on the head, Mrs. Tack Walker went to Owensboro Monday and swore out warrants against her brother-in-law and nephew, charging malicious cutting. She stated that the two men had come to her home while in an intoxicated condition and attempted an assault upon her husband. She came to her husband's assistance and succeeded in driving the two men away only after they had seriously cut her husband. Officers are making a search for the two men, who have left the Laffoon neighborhood and were thought to be in Henderson. Inquiry in Henderson, however, failed to locate them.

Tack Walker is resting easily, although he is still considered to be in a serious condition. Eighteen stitches were required to close the knife wound in his head. He also suffered a number of minor cuts and bruises.

As the result of the affray the residence of Tack Walker was almost destroyed by fire. The fire was discovered during the battle between Mrs. Tack Walker and William and Emmett Walker. Before it could be controlled the flames had spread throughout one room, totally destroying it, and damaging the remainder of the building.—[Owensboro Messenger.]

FIRE CONSUMES BLOCK EARLY MORNING BLAZE

Irvine, Ky., Nov. 25.—Fire originating in the City Restaurant here at 1:30 o'clock this morning destroyed an entire business block and caused a loss of $250,000. The fire was discovered about 1:45 o'clock by two men rooming in the building next door. When discovered the fire had gained much headway and spread rapidly until only charred embers remained. The fire is supposed to have started from a coffee urn in the restaurant building.

The burned area composed half the business district of the town. The town has no waterworks, but there was little wind blowing.

C. C. Dullin, the man who drilled the first oil well in the now famous Irvine field, was asleep in his office when the alarm was sounded and he made a slide for life down a telephone pole guy wire, escaping from the burning building. A man rooming above the Lyric moving picture theater jumped from the second-story window when the flames cut off his escape by the stairway. He was unhurt.

Tom Buford, contractor for the fireproof Williams bank, dropped dead of heart disease shortly after the fire broke out.

BRANDEIS THANKED FOR SERVICES TO JEWS

New York, Nov. 26.—Associate Justice Louis D. Brandeis, of the United States Supreme Court, was presented here to-day with a "testimonial of gratitude for his services to the Jewish people" on the occasion of the sixtieth anniversary of his birth. The testimonial bore the signatures of 8,000 persons living in 210 cities and towns of forty-three States and the Panama Canal Zone. It was announced that a fund is being raised in connection with the testimonial to be used for some Jewish purpose, which Justice Brandeis will make public in a few days.

Inventor Of Machine Gun Dies.
London, Nov. 24.—Sir Hiram Maxim, inventor of the automatic system of firearms, died at his home here early to-day.

Sir Hiram, who was American born, was one of the most famous inventors, civil, mechanical and electrical engineers of Great Britain. He was known most widely as the inventor of the Maxim machine gun, which makes the recoil of the weapon serve as the power for reloading, and which is the weapon largely used in the European war to-day.

He was born in Sangerville, Me., February 5, 1840, the son of Isaac Weston and Harriet M. Maxim, and received only a common school education, but he acquired scientific knowledge by reading and attending lectures. He went to England in 1881, and had resided there ever since. He was knighted by Queen Victoria in 1901.

His son, Hiram Percy Maxim, is a well known inventor of the United States, known particularly as the inventor of the Maxim camera.

Five Regiments Ordered Home.
Washington, Nov. 25.—Five National Guard regiments were ordered home from the Mexican border to-day. They are the First Regiment of South Carolina, Seventh New York, Third Indiana, Third Wisconsin and Third Minnesota.

War Department officials said the order did not indicate any change in policy or general withdrawal of guardsmen from the border and had no relation to the proceedings of the joint conference at Atlantic City. They said that as rapidly as conditions on any portion of the border are considered by Gen. Funston to justify the withdrawal of the troops, it is the department's intention to bring home additional regiment and release them from Federal service.

Approximately 100,000 National Guardsmen will remain on the border when these five regiments, with a total strength of about 6,000, have been withdrawn. The regiments will start home as soon as transportation facilities will permit, and all probably will be at their state muster point by Thanksgiving.

WAREHOUSES RAIDED MILLIONS OF EGGS SEIZED

Bad Ones to Be Destroyed to Break Corner
On the Market.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—In an attempt to smash an alleged "corner" in eggs, city health officials to-day raided a warehouse and seized several millions of eggs said to have been stored by James E. Wetz, alleged "egg king."

Dr. John Dill Robertson, commissioner of health, who led the raid, said he was acting on an ordinance authorizing him to hold for investigation eggs the quality of which is suspected.

Dr. Robertson said he would hold all suspicious eggs for further inspection and would destroy all bad eggs. He was asked what effect such procedure would have on the supply and prices.

"I don't know," he replied, "but I do know that if we have to pay high prices for storage eggs we are going to get good eggs."

Wetz, according to officials, has control of 72,000,000 eggs.

Raids were made also on two other warehouses where Wetz had eggs in storage.

The ordinance, it was learned to-day, prohibits the storage of eggs for more than ten months. Examination by city investigators showed that many millions, including many stored by Wetz, were put away in March and April.

"Wetz will be obliged to throw these on the market by January 21," said Dr. Robertson, "and my advice to the people is to stop using eggs until he begins to market them."

Women of the Political Equality League adopted a resolution to-day declaring that "eggs at 50 cents a dozen are prohibitive," and agreeing to buy none at that price.

The high price of eggs is the result of general prosperity, which has induced an extraordinary consumption together with a shortage of production, according to a statement Board, which announced that it would welcome any investigation into its manner or arriving at prices.

CHARGED WITH THE MURDER OF HIS WIFE

Will Barnes, charged with the murder of his wife, Fama Barnes, early Tuesday evening at the home of Fred Racine, a farmer living near Rome, was arrested shortly after dinner Tuesday at the residence of Tom Moseley, in Twenty-fifth street. His capture was made by a sheriff's posse composed of Sheriff B. J. Milton, Deputy Sheriff Ben Lancaster and Forrest Taylor and Patrolman James Harl.

Barnes was placed in an automobile and hurried to the court house, where Esquire Hite, who had been previously notified of his capture, was awaiting him. Esquire Hite set his examining trial for Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and committed the prisoner to jail without bond.

Later in the afternoon Barnes was taken from the Daviess county jail and taken by train to Henderson for confinement pending his examining trial.

When brought before Esquire Hite, Barnes denied any knowledge of the killing of his wife. He claims that the first he knew about it was when he was told by Deputy Sheriff Ben Lancaster that he was under arrest on a warrant charging him with the offense. During his presence in the court room while Esquire Hite was preparing the commitment papers, Barnes maintained a stolid and indifferent demeanor. He talked freely about his actions both before and after the killing. He claims to have been drinking some but did not admit that he was intoxicated during the time the tragedy occurred.—[Owensboro Messenger.]

CITIZENS ORGANIZE TO BUY FOODSTUFFS

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 26.—A co-operative organization of citizens which will buy foodstuffs, fuel and other necessities in large quantities to reduce the price to consumers was started here to-day at a large mass meeting of citizens.

Speakers at the meeting were vigorous in their denunciations of wholesale merchants as responsible for prevailing high prices. One speaker charged that local wholesale merchants have allowed foodstuffs to spoil in order to keep prices up.

Jack London, Novelist—Dead.
Santa Rosa, Cal., Nov. 23.—Jack London, the author, died at his Glen Ellen, Cal., ranch near here at 7:45 o'clock last night, a victim of uraemic poisoning.

Besides his sister, Mrs. Shepard, Mrs. London was with her husband when death came.

Mr. and Mrs. London recently returned from a sojourn of several months in the Hawaiian Islands and have been living on their Glen Ellen ranch, one of the most elaborately equipped in northern California.

Jack London, novelist, socialist, reformer and anthropologist, began his tempestuous career in San Francisco January 12, 1876.

SENATOR JAMES BOOMED FOR HIGH HONOR

Washington, Nov. 27.—The Washington Times, an afternoon paper owned by Frank A. Munsey, published the following story:

"Senator Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, the biggest man and one of the youngest in the upper branch of congress, is being powerfully supported for president pro tempore of that body."

"There is no doubt about the Democrats controlling the next senate; but the death of Senator Clark, of Kansas, makes it necessary that a new president pro tem shall be chosen. The position will be unusually important, partly because the Progressive-Republican element will frequently be needed to offset defections of conservative Democrats and finally because it will be of supreme importance that the senate be under a direction that will keep it from falling utterly out of working harmony with a house that may be Republican, and is certain to be very close."

HUGE SUM FOR CHARITIES, RELIGION AND EDUCATION

New York, Nov. 26.—Financial assistance which the government of the city of New York gives annually to charitable, religious, educational and kindred institutions amount to approximately $12,902,629, according to a report submitted to Mayor Mitchell by Leonard M. Wellstein, commissioner of accounts, made public here to-night.

INDIANA REPUBLICANS COLLECTED $258,000

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25.—The total collections made by the Indiana Republican State Committee during their campaign from March 16 to November 15, of this year, was $258,181.87, according to the report of Frank D. Stalnaker, the treasurer, filed to-day with the Secretary of State.

Lake County Tobacco Sale.

Hodgenville's Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse began sales Tuesday under favorable conditions. A large crowd was present to watch the first sale of the season, which was one of the most successful in the State this season. The quality was the very best and the buyers were enthusiastic. 48,000 pounds were sold, the most of it burley which ranged in prices $9.00 to $40.50. Auctioneer E. H. Rinker made quick work of the tobacco on the floor, and in a measure was responsible for the good prices received.—[Kentucky Standard.]

Stockyards Closed.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27.—Orders closing the Union stockyards at Chicago and the National stockyards at East St. Louis against the shipment of any cattle, sheep or hogs, except for immediate slaughter, were issued to-day by State Veterinarian Dyson, after the receipt of news of a suspected outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Nebraska.

VILLA DRIVEN AWAY FROM CHIHUAHUA

Juarez, Nov. 27.—Judge Francisco Martinez, of the Court of Letters here, announced to-day that he had received information from official sources that Villa had been completely driven away from Chihuahua City and was retreating toward the mountains.

Juarez, Mex., Nov. 27.—The final result of the fighting between the de facto government forces defending Chihuahua City and Francisco Villa's bandit army was unknown at the American border early to-day. Wire communication between Chihuahua City and Juarez broken presumably by bandits Saturday had not been restored. Carranza officials here express the conviction that Villa's efforts to take the city had been defeated although the last news received directly from the battlefield indicated that the bandits, during the fighting Saturday, carried the conflict into the city proper where they were finally ejected after heavy losses by both sides.

An account of the fighting early Saturday from an Associated Press representative at Chihuahua City was delivered by courier at Marfa, Texas, last night. This account stated that short range fighting occurred Saturday in Zareo avenue and that the bandits were finally driven out on to the plains where they were raked with machine gun and artillery fire. The account also said that an automobile in which Villa was directing the bandit attack was riddled by the fire of the government troops and the bandit leader was forced to flee on horseback.

Later advices received by Carranza officials here from a station north of Chihuahua City, said that Jose Ynes Salazar, Villa's second in command was seriously wounded Saturday. This report also stated that the fighting continued late Saturday.

American army officers at El Paso received a report last night that Villa released the prisoners in Chihuahua prison before he was driven out of the city. Carranza officials said they had received no such advices.

CALIFORNIA COUNT FINALLY COMPLETED

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 25.—Figures tabulated at the office of the canvass of San Francisco county's Secretary of State to-day, when the returns for presidential electors had been completed, showed that the highest Democratic elector had a margin of 3,806 votes over the highest Republican in the vote of the entire State. The figures were:

Francis J. Heney, highest Democrat, 466,200.
J. F. Carlsten, highest Republican, 462,394.

The lowest Democratic elector, Mrs. Carrie L. Tyler, was found to have 463,621 votes, or a margin of 1,227 over the highest Republican.

While the above results have not been accorded official certification, by the Secretary of State, they are considered correct.

Alvin T. Hart For State-Wide.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 27.—Saying that "conditions in Kentucky, resulting from the political activity of the liquor industry, and its consequent effect upon the affairs of the people have become unbearable," Alvin T. Hart, Republican national committeeman from Kentucky, issued a statement to-night urging that the Republican party of this State "take a firm stand, at once" in favor of State-wide prohibition.

Republican politicians in Louisville who learned to-night of Mr. Hart's declaration in favor of state-wide prohibition, see ahead a factional fight in the Republican party.

"The first step to be taken will be to 'call the hand' of E. T. Franks, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee," said a well informed Republican to-night. "A movement will be set on foot at once to have a convention of the Republican party in Kentucky, to declare for State-wide prohibition," he continued.

Prices Come Down With Crash.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Wheat prices came down with a crash to-day, breaking as much as 9½ cents a bushel. The talk of an armistice in Europe and a possible embargo, were factors in the drop.

TOBACCO POOL HAS BEEN SOLD TO TUCK COMPANY

Louisville Firm Offers Best
Price Ever Bid on Pool in District.

All that remains between the consummation of the sale of the tobacco pool controlled by the Farmers' Co-operative Tobacco Association, is a ratification of a contract by the members of the association.

Announcement was made on Friday by President Ford and the members of the board of directors, who have been in session since Wednesday that the offer of G. O. Tuck & Company, of Louisville, for the entire pool had been accepted. The offer of Tuck & Company is the highest that has ever been made for a tobacco pool in the Green River district.

Here are the prices according to grades:

Grades:	Leaf	Logs	Trash
No. 1	8.12	10.00	5.00
No. 2	10.00	9.00	5.00
No. 3	9.00	8.50	5.00
No. 4	8.00	8.00	5.00
No. 5	7.50	7.50	5.00
No. 6	7.00	7.00	5.00

Hope to deliver 25,000,000 lbs.

Officers of the association announced on Friday that they hope to deliver 25,000,000 pounds to Tuck & Company under the contract. There will be another meeting of the board of directors in Owensboro on Monday, when the final details will be made with Tuck & Company and the contract signed. A meeting of the members of the association will be called for the last of next week, when action will be taken accepting or rejecting the offer.

The pooled tobacco will be delivered at receiving points in Daviess, Ohio, McLean and Hancock counties. These points will be designated by the board of directors on Monday. It is understood that J. M. Vaughn will have charge of receiving the tobacco for Tuck & Company.

Tuck & Company have been in the tobacco brokerage business in Louisville for a number of years. The company has bought extensively of the pools in the one-shucker patch in the Bowling Green district, always paying good prices for the weed. It is said that Mr. Tuck bought a quantity of tobacco for the French government last year. A member of the firm is Wallace Vaughn, a brother of J. M. Vaughn, of Owensboro.

R. E. O'Flynn was another bidder for the pool, but his bid was below that of Tuck & Company. Mr. O'Flynn offered from $12 to $6.50 for the leaf; $10 to $6.50 for the logs and $5 for all of the trash. His contract provided for the payment of the farmers in cash for each load of tobacco delivered. To Mr. O'Flynn the farmers of the Green River district are indebted for the boosting of the price of trash. It is known that a few months ago the growers were not expecting $5 for all of the trash, and were very much surprised when Mr. O'Flynn offered that amount to the officials of the pool.—[Owensboro Messenger.]

Later—Yesterday's Owensboro Inquirer says:

If there is no change in the contract President Ford will call a meeting at the court house in Owensboro next Saturday to ratify or reject the sale. From the statement made by a number of farmers when informed of the sale and price, there is some question as to whether the sale will be ratified. If the contract is accepted deliveries will begin as soon thereafter as is convenient for the growers. Very little tobacco was stripped last week, as the rain did not bring as good a season as was expected, and consequently until there is a good season, the deliveries of tobacco will be rather light.

County Meeting A. S. Of E.

Mr. Blanton requests The Herald to say that there will be a county meeting of the A. S. of E. in Hartford next Saturday. As there is to be some very important business to be considered, he requests the presence of representatives from each local in the county.

With William Jennings Bryan already launched upon a four-year fight, to make the United States "dry" by federal enactment in 1920, 29 with every prospect that the prohibition issue will monopolize the spot light of Kentucky politics for the next few years at least, results of the recent national election, so far as they affect this question, are interesting.

Four States, containing a population of 3,499,196 and an area of 326,112 square miles, equaling more than one-twelfth of the area of the United States, in a single day went from wet to dry.

Of the 2,543 counties in the United States, 2,047 were dry before the election, November 7, when 191 more counties were added, leaving only 355 wet counties in the entire nation.

The significant trend of the times is the turn of big industrial cities against the saloon, Kansas City, Grand Rapids, Seattle, Spokane, Tacoma, all gave decisive dry majorities.

In addition Florida and Utah elected Legislatures and Governors pledged to immediate statutory prohibition. Both of these States will be in the dry column within the next four months.

This will leave only eleven States more to adopt State-wide prohibition before three-fourths (thirty-six), the number necessary to ratify the amendment to the constitution, of all the States in the union are dry.

The situation is a number of these eleven States is as follows: Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Texas, New Mexico, Wyoming and Delaware seem just about ready to drop into the dry basket. The chances are more than even that five of these will adopt prohibition within the next twelve months—namely: Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio, New Mexico and Texas.

Other States On Verge.

The situation in the remaining States necessary for the adoption of prohibition is as follows:

New Hampshire—Unless there is an affirmative vote in each town for licenses each two years no licenses can be granted. At the 1915 election, 203 towns voted against license, twenty-one towns for license. The majority all over the State against license was 7,663.

Vermont—The same kind of local option prevails in Vermont as in New Hampshire. Only seventeen of the 246 towns in the State have saloons and seven of the seventeen have in the aggregate only twelve saloons.

Delaware—Has only 200 saloons left in the entire State and State-wide prohibition is imminent.

Wyoming—The issue is a live one and statutory prohibition probable at the coming session of the legislature.

California—California reduced the wet majority of two years ago of 170,000 down to 45,000 for prohibition of the saloons and all retail selling liquor and to 100,000 for complete prohibition of the liquor traffic, retail, wholesale and manufacturers.

Maryland—Maryland is coming to State-wide prohibition. Seventeen of her twenty-three counties are dry.

Kentucky—Of the 120 counties in Kentucky 106 are dry and eighty and five-tenths per cent of the population resides in dry territory. State-wide prohibition is a very live issue.

Three-fourths Assured.

The above makes thirty-seven States, or more than the necessary three-fourths. To bring about national prohibition it is not necessary that the individual States shall have adopted the dry law, but only that the legislature should be dry, which will open the doors to at least two more States—namely: Missouri and Nevada.

There is a considerable sentiment against the saloon in Nevada and it is probable that the legislature of Nevada would ratify a prohibition amendment to the national constitution. The legislature of Missouri is elected by counties, which minimizes the power of St. Louis, in consequence the legislature is overwhelmingly dry and would ratify the national amendment.

The legislatures of Illinois and Louisiana offer a fighting chance.

Five years ago 60,000 people in supposedly impregnable Pennsylvania lived in no license territory. Today there are more than 1,500,000 and while in 1911 there were only 700 square miles of dry territory today there are 12,300. Then there were only two counties dry. Now there are eleven.

FRAMISGHAM, MAS., WILL BE SPOTLESS TOWN OF AMERICA$100,000 to Be Spent in Community Health Demonstration by National Organization.

Framingham, Massachusetts, will be made the Spotless Town of the United States, if the $100,000 that The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis is to spend there in a community health demonstration during the next three years can make it so.

Out of several hundred towns, it has just been selected by a special committee for a community health demonstration that will seek to show that tuberculosis can be controlled as well as other infectious diseases, if the right methods are employed.

The fund for conducting the demonstration has been donated to the National Association by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The demonstration will be started at once, under the direction of Dr. Donald B. Armstrong, Assistant Secretary of The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. The Committee which will have control of the work consists of Dr. Edward R. Baldwin, Saranac Lake, President of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis; Dr. Lee K. Frankel, Sixth Vice-President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, New York; Dr. William Charles White, Medical Director of the Pittsburgh Tuberculosis League; Dr. Arthur K. Stone, President of the Massachusetts Trustees of Hospitals for Consumptives, Boston; Dr. Stephen J. Maher, Chairman of the Connecticut State Tuberculosis Commission, New Haven; Mr. Homer Folks, Secretary of the New York State Charities Aid Association; and Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, Executive Secretary of The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, New York.

In addition to the money which the Committee will spend in Framingham, that city has agreed to cooperate by improving its public health work and by offering certain special facilities for work under the direction of the Committee. The leading citizens of Framingham, as well as the State Department of Health, Harvard University, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and other schools, have offered their help in the demonstration. As part of the plan, it is proposed to place under definite control every living case of tuberculosis, both those that are demonstrably so and those that are suspected of having had contact with the disease.

As a result of this demonstration, it is planned later to use the experience in Framingham in other cities of the United States, to show that tuberculosis can be controlled anywhere.

DIRECT VOTE FOR PRESIDENT TO BE URGED

Portland, Ore., Nov. 25.—Senator George E. Chamberlain, who left tonight for Washington, announced that at the coming session of Congress he will introduce a proposed constitutional amendment providing for the election of the President by direct vote of the people. His intention, he said, is to get the amendment under way promptly, so that it may be acted on by Congress and, if adopted there, by the legislatures of the various States in time to become effective for the next Presidential election.

"The recent election demonstrated more strongly than ever the desirability of electing the President by direct vote," said Senator Chamberlain. "If 5,000 votes in California had been changed that State would have gone for Hughes and he would have been elected, notwithstanding 400,000 more votes were cast in the nation for Wilson than for Hughes. Another time the present system might work to the disadvantage of the other party."

Senator Chamberlain, who is chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, said he would also at the coming session put forward a measure providing for universal military service.

Negro Executed in Eddyville. Eddyville, Ky., Nov. 25.—Henry Garrison, a Campbell county negro, accused of criminal assault, was electrocuted in the penitentiary here this morning at 4:50 o'clock.

Before he went to the chair Garrison confessed his guilt to Warden Chilton.

When he was brought to the penitentiary Garrison was an illiterate, but under the tuition of the penitentiary officials he learned to read and write and had reached the Fourth Reader. His only request of Warden Chilton was that his Fourth Reader be sent to his family at NewDort.

L. & N. PROTESTS LIFTING EMBARGO

States Reasons For Shortage Of Coal Cars

WORKS HARDSHIP ON ROAD

President Smith Declares Its Coal Transportation Facilities Are Imperiled

EXCEPT CARS ARE RETURNED

The oral hearing into the shortage situation ended here yesterday,
but Commissioner C. C. McChord, who conducted it, announced that the investigation has just begun and will be continued in Washington by the commission, and with the aid of the committee of railroad executives appointed by the American Railway Association it is hoped to solve the problem satisfactorily.

Meanwhile, according to a statement made by President Milton H.
Smith, the L. & N. is facing a complete breakdown of its coal-car transportation facilities, because of the necessity of lifting the embargo it inaugurated October 28 on cars billed to points north of the Ohio river. After reciting the conditions which prevailed at the time the embargo was placed and conditions prevailing now, President Smith, in a statement, asserts that if there occurs the paralysis of local traffic on the L. & N. that is indicated, the responsibility must be laid at the door of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which ordered the lifting of the embargo November 21.

Mr. Smith says the order of the commission will immediately wipe out all the gain made by the L. & N. in coal car equipment from 39 to 60 per cent, during the time the embargo was in effect, and that conditions will soon be as bad as when the embargo was laid.

President Smith points to three reasons why the L. & N. will be rendered helpless by removal of its embargo; first, that the road now has in its possession only 60 per cent, of the coal equipment it owns; second, that every car delivered by it to connecting lines without receiving a like car in exchange depletes its equipment of that class to that extent; and, third, that, with the embargo raised, the road must permit its equipment to be consigned at the will of the shipper to any point in the United States and Canada.

The L. & N. blames connecting lines beyond the Ohio river in a large measure for its shortage of coal cars because of their "inexcusable failure to furnish their quota of cars for this coal trade, though the traffic moves over their lines and they share in the revenue."

The L. & N. owned, just prior to the time the embargo was put into effect, 16,008 coal cars, the statement says. The day the embargo became effective, 11,848 of these cars were off its line, leaving the L.
& N. but 7,760 of its cars, which is 39 per cent, of its ownership. To offset this shortage, the L. & N. had 2,392 foreign cars on its line.

The statement says the paralysis of its coal-transportation facilities would cause the closing down of hundreds of mines and industries along its lines, and in consequence the idleness of thousands of people engaged in those industries. Attention is called to the fact that the L.
& N. being an originating line, loads more cars to other lines than it receives in return.

Mr. Smith says he does not believe the promise of other roads to return L. & N. cars is such as to make its embargo unnecessary, nevertheless the L. & N. is raising its embargo rather than resist the order of the commission; because the road
"appreciates to the fullest the efforts of the commission to remedy existing conditions" and because the L. & N. feels that "it should not even appear to stand in the way of the commissioner's plans."

ORIGIN OF THE DEMOCRATIC ROOSTER

Few people to-day are familiar with the story of the origin of the rooster as an emblem of the Democratic party. It may be of interest to know that it is a survival of the great campaign of 1840. The log-cabins, elder casks and coons that were the spectacular features of that year have not come down to us except in story. The processions that made such a great appeal to the eye and to the senses have become a thing of the past. But the mass meetings and speakings of the days of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too" have survived the seventy-six years and with them the Democratic rooster.

It was in Indiana that the rooster originated as a party emblem. Early in the campaign it became evident that Gen. William Henry Harrison would carry the Hoosier State, and party spirit ran high. The Democratic candidates were warned of the danger by George Pattison and Nat Bolten, editors of the Indiana Democrat of Indianapolis. In a note to a Mr. Sebastian, postmaster at Greenfield, they urged that the candidates make a great display of courage and confidence and added
"Tell Chapman to crow." Joseph Chapman was the Democratic candidate for the Legislature from Hin-cock county. This letter reached Greenfield June 12, 1840, and fell into the hands of Chapman's opponent, Thomas D. Walpole. Copies of it were sent to the leading Whig papers. It appeared in the Indianapolis Journal and the Spirit of '76 the following day. It was copied all over the country and soon appeared at the head of the Whig papers in derision of the Democratic party. A favorite cut was that of a coon dining on a fat rooster.

The next election, however,
brought success to the Democrats and they adopted the phrase "Tell Chapman to Crow," as most fitting and proper. The rooster was boosted to the head of Democratic papers, where it is found to-day. Joe Chapman became the widest-known politician in the whole country and was greatly displeased at such popularity.

DON'T LET YOUR HORSE DRINK AT PUBLIC TROUGHS

The public watering trough is a nuisance that should be abolished.
It is easy to comprehend the necessity which compels the doing away with the public roller towel, the bar of soap and public drinking cup, and the same arguments for abolishing the public watering trough are applicable, save that they apply to horse and not man.

It is common knowledge that some of the worst diseases of horses, such as glanders and strangles, are transmitted in this way. Some of the transportation companies place notices in their establishments to the effect that teamsters are not to water at public watering troughs, under penalty of dismissal. It is quite certain that this is the most common means of spreading strangles (distemper) among horses and the public watering trough should be legally abolished.

ADMITS APPLYING TORCH TO DWELLINGS

Boston, Nov. 22.—In one of the most sensational confessions ever made to District Attorney Pelletier, Reuben Levine, 28 years old, of East Boston, to-day admitted setting fires
in East Boston, Chelsea, Revere, Roxbury and Dorchester for pay.

He implicated many persons and later in the Superior Criminal Court, pleaded guilty to a charge of arson and burning buildings to defraud insurance companies. He was sentenced to five to six years in State Prison.

Levine secretly was indicted by the grand jury investigating the so-called "arson trust," and to-day gave himself up to the District Attorney's office.

Among the persons he implicated as his accomplices in the setting of fires were many women. He declared he had received $250 for each fire he set, and he had set two or more fires a month for the last two years.

Ready To Launch Peace Plan.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The report that this Government soon will take some step formally to urge peace in Europe was emphasized today by a long conference at the White House between President Wilson and Dr. Paul Ritter, Minister from Switzerland.

The diplomat is understood to have assured the Chief Executive the Swiss Government would lend every possible aid in an effort to end the war. It is known Dr. Ritter is eager to have the peace delegates meet in Switzerland, and he is believed to have extended the invitation to-day.

It was admitted for the first time that President Wilson has his agents in the field and will launch a plan as soon as there is the slightest assurance that it can be made effective. No details of the conference with Dr. Ritter were made public.

THANKSGIVING ODE

By John Greenleaf Whittier.

Once more the liberal year laughs out
O'er richer stores than gems of gold;
Once more with harvest song and shout
Is nature's bloodless triumph told.

Our common mother rests and sings,
Like Ruth, among her garnered sheaves.
Her lap is full of goodly things;
Her brow is bright with autumn leaves.

O favors every year made new!
O gifts with rain and sunshine sent!
The bounty overruns our due;
The fullness shames our discontent.

We shut our eyes, and flowers bloom on;
We murmur, but the corn ears
fill;
We choose the shadow, but the sun
That casts it shines behind us still.

God gives us with our rugged soil,
The power to make it Eden fair
And richer fruits to crown our toil
Than summer wedded islands bear.

Who murmurs at his lot to-day?
Who scorns his native fruit and bloom
Or sighs for dainties far away
Besides the bounteous board of home?

Thank heaven, instead, that freedom's arm

Can change a rocky soil to gold;
That brave and generous lives can warm
A clime with northern ices cold.

And let these altars, wreathed with flowers
And piled with fruits, awake again

Thanksgivings for the golden hours,
The early and the latter rain.

MEXICANS REQUEST TWO-WEEKS RECESS

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 23.—A recess of two weeks has been requested by the Mexican members of the Mexican-American Joint Commission to give the man opportunity to lay before Gen. Carranza the proposals formulated by the Americans for border control. The indications were to-night that the request would be granted.

Alberto J. Paul probably will be delegated by his colleagues to confer personally with Gen. Carranza and present to him a detailed statement of the developments since Secretary of the Interior Lane presented the American program as approved by President Wilson.

The Americans have earnestly attempted to convince the Mexicans that such an agreement as has been proposed would be advisable, but Gen. Carranza's representatives have insisted thus far that they cannot concur in a plan which they maintain would involve the humiliation of their country.

Luis Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican Commission and Ignacio Bonillas probably will remain in the United States until Mr. Paul returns or they are officially informed of the de facto Government's desires. The Americans probably will spend the recess at their homes.

Only a brief session was held today. Some further consideration was given suggestions for modifications made by the Mexicans, and an adjournment was taken until tomorrow, when it is expected that all members will be present. Dr. J. R.
Mott, of the American commission, is on his way from Cleveland, where he went to speak, and Luis Cabrera, of the Mexican commission, who went to Philadelphia to-night, said he would be present at the conference to-morrow.

Hospital Ship Destroyed.

Athens, Nov. 22, 9:30 a. m. (via London, 4:52 p. m.).—The White Star Line steamship Britannic, serving as a hospital ship for wounded soldiers of the Entente Allies, has been torpedoed and sunk, according to an official announcement made here to-day. Fifty lives were lost.

The Britannic was sunk off the Island of Kea (Keos, southeast of Attica, in the Aegean). She carried
1,000 British sick and wounded men.
The Britannic was equipped with thirty-five lifeboats, and the loss of life incident to the sinking is supposed to have been small.

The Britannic sunk was the new White Star liner of that name, of 47,500 tons.

Democrats Will Control.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Democrat leaders in the House, encouraged by the prospective seating of Representative Kelly, of Pennsylvania, expected again that the final counts in the Second Michigan and Third New Jersey districts would add them to the Democratic column.

With the votes of London (Socialist) and Randall (Prohibitionist), upon whom they count, they expect 218 votes for the organization fight against 217, for the Republicans, which includes one Independent, one Progressive-Protectionist and two Progressives.

DEATH MASK IS TAKEN

HART IN SILVER CUP

Vienna, Wednesday, Nov. 22 (via London, Nov. 23, 11:25 a. m., delayed).—Death came to Emperor Francis Joseph as sleep to a child while the sovereign was reclining in an armchair in what he called his workroom. His strength had rapidly been ebbing from 2 o'clock in the afternoon of yesterday, but he refused to take to his bed. After 6 o'clock he began gradually to lose consciousness and went to the end without uttering another word, resting peacefully in his chair with his hands folded as if he were in prayer.

This afternoon a death mask of the Emperor was taken as a preliminary to the embalming of the body and its removal to the Hofburg, where it will be in state. The heart will be sealed in a silver cup, while the intestines, lungs and stomach will be placed in a copper urn.

The body must be transferred from the Schoenbrunn Palace to the Hofburg in the dead of night, drawn by six black horses. The cortege will be accompanied by torch bearers and the outriders also will carry torches.

BLAZING GOAT

PLUNGES THROUGH FIELDS

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 23.—
Careerling madly through the fields, every hair of his coat ablaze, a goat
last night applied the torch to fields and buildings, leaving in his wake a fiery trail that brought volunteer fire fighters out in force.

Twenty-five acres of grass, two large stock barns and fencing were ignited. Then the animal, wearied by his headlong flight and suffering from the flames that were rapidly consuming him, keeled over in the midst of the conflagration he had started and died.

Fifteen acres of grass on the farm
of Miss Ethel Hunt, near Claypool, was destroyed, as were several acres on adjoining pieces of property. The barns were saved by neighbors.

How the goat's coat became ignited may never be known. The secret died with him.

THANKSGIVING.

Thanksgiving, we are told, is peculiar to the United States and our country would be peculiar indeed, if it were not most grateful for its rich blessings this year. While the world war wages, making countless widows and orphans in Europe, we enjoy the blessings of peace, with our fathers and sons at our firesides instead of in the trenches. While Europe is engulfed in desolation and want, we garner our golden Autumn harvests and reap the blessings of peace and plenty. Many years, we fear, we go through the form of thanksgiving, on the day set aside for that purpose, largely as a matter of custom. But surely there is no real red-blooded American citizen who cannot sincerely thank his God to-morrow for a country like the United States, and the blessings that flow from a government devoted to peace, prosperity and humanity—a government by free men in the interest of all mankind.

With nineteen States already dry and six more added in the last election, it would seem that the distillers will soon be able to see the hand writing on the wall. It is universally conceded that the use of intoxicants to excess is to be deplored. Many believe even moderate use of liquors is harmful; others hold such use right. There is no way with which we are familiar to limit the extent of one's drinks except by cutting off the supply. If the number addicted, or in grave danger of becoming addicted to excessive drink are sufficiently large to materially injure society, then, under our idea of the greatest good for the greatest number, the supply should be stopped. This cannot be effectually done except by national prohibition, and national prohibition is a childish dream unless three-fourths of the States believe in prohibition by law rather than by education. Every State added to the dry column, even though it fails to accomplish satisfactory State prohibition, does bring the dream of national prohibition one point nearer realization. And national prohibition will prohibit. Bryan gets the date for this constitutional amendment in 1920, and we are not ready, as yet, to dispute Mr. Bryan's prediction.

It has been announced that there will be no inaugural ball at Washington next March. Perhaps the Republicans in Wall Street have a monopoly on "bawls" this year.

Christmas is less than a month away. Remember the early shopper not only avoids the rush but has the pick of an unbroken stock. Why delay?

Why not elect the Congresswoman from Montana Speaker of the House? She is the Rankin member on the Republican side.—[Elizabethtown News.]

The price of turkey insures a thankful Thanksgiving for the farmer. But if the price continues to soar won't he have "some Christmas?"

MEMORIAL.

We join with the other members of the Kentucky Press Association, all over the State, in extending to the bereaved wife and children of Editor Heber Matthews, of the Hartford Herald, who died suddenly last Thursday of heart disease, our most profound sympathy. He was one of the best country editors in Kentucky, was a loyal and interested member of the K. P. A., who was loved and highly esteemed by all his fellow editors, and will be greatly missed in the meetings and councils of this organization.—[Cadiz Record.]

The Louisville Evening Post in commenting on Mr. Heber Matthews' death says:

Mr. Matthews was for many years correspondent of the Evening Post, and was one of the most valued men on the paper's staff.

Heber Matthews, editor Hartford Herald, and one of the best known newspaper men in the State, died at his home of heart disease on Nov. 16th. He had been in failing health for some time and for the past ten days had been critically ill, but a short time before death it was thought he was better.—[Green River Republican.]

The sudden death of Editor Heber Matthews, of the Hartford Herald, Thursday of last week of heart failure, was received with great sorrow by the entire press of Kentucky especially by the members of the Kentucky Press Association of which he was an active and valued member. It was during our early days in the print shop that we first knew and learned to appreciate Heber Matthews. He worked on the old Banner, of this city, when owned and edited by Capt. C. T. Allen, and we join his many old friends here and among the press boys in extending profound sympathy to his grief-stricken family.—[Twice-A-Week Leader, Princeton, Ky.]

The pen of Heber Matthews, editor of the Hartford Herald, moves no more.

Editor Matthews no longer guides the editorial columns of the Hartford Herald, a paper that he made editorially one of the best country weeklies in Kentucky. We knew him for a quarter of a century as our personal and editorial friend, and now that he has gone from his friends below may he be honored by the Great Editor of Life and Love through an unending eternity.—[Todd County Progress.]

WILSON TO TAKE OATH OF OFFICE ON SUNDAY

President Wilson will take the oath of office for his second term on Sunday, March 4, 1917. The oath will then be readministered the following day.

This became known after the State department had examined its records in a search for precedents. The department holds that "there is no interval between the term of one President and the beginning of his successor."

The department also holds that the fact that President Wilson's term will expire on a Sunday will not leave a hiatus in the office until noon of March 5. To obviate the raising of any question, however, Secretary Lansing has decided to advise the President to take the oath on Sunday.

The attitude of the State department is based chiefly on a letter written by Chief Justice John Marshall to John Quincy Adams, then Secretary of State, dated Feb. 20, 1821.

TUESDAY PUT.

"The Democrats can have their fun with Charles Warren Fairbanks, but we would call attention to the fact that he carried his home State, which is more than either man on the Democratic ticket could do."—[Chicago Herald.]

And the Courier-Journal would call attention to the fact that early in the campaign, soon after Mr. Hughes' wet-blanket speech of acceptance, Mr. Fairbanks paid a visit to Republican headquarters in New York, whence he emerged with a long face and the remark that he could carry Indiana, but that was all.—[Courier-Journal.]

Gives Namesake $10.

Congressman Ben Johnson, of Bardonia, came over Saturday night to participate in the Democratic rally and to thank the voters of this end of the Fourth District for the splendid manner in which they stood by him in the race for Congress.

Although Mr. Johnson has been here on numerous occasions before, he never knew until Saturday night that he had a namesake in the county. But he has. The young man is Ben Johnson White, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John White, who resides near town. It happened that Mr. Johnson's namesake was in town Saturday night celebrating the Wilson victory. His mother presented him to Mr. Johnson, who gave him a crisp $10 bill.—[Lebanon Enterprise.]

Fortune In Turkeys.

Cadiz, Ky., Nov. 23.—Never before in the history of Cadiz have turkeys sold as high as they are selling now. They are bringing 23 cents per pound on the local market. Block Bros. bought one yesterday that weighed thirty-five pounds, for which they paid $8.05. Quite a number have been sold here for over $6. A pool of 1,200 turkeys at Cerulean Springs, in this county, was sold to "Peck" Stewart at 23 cents per pound. They brought over $2,800.

Jailer Seeking Employment.

Cadiz, Ky., Nov. 23.—The doors of the Trigg county jail have been standing open for a month. There have been only three prisoners in jail here in three months, and two of these only remained one night. The third one was only in a day or two. Jailer Hendrick has been forced to seek other employment to make a living.

What's Up His Sleeve Now.

New York, Nov. 25.—Theodore Roosevelt will make a trip to the Fiji, Samoan and Hawaiian Islands in February. It was announced here to-day. It was stated that Mrs. Roosevelt will accompany him. Plans for the trip, it is said, have been under way for some time and now have been completed.

Carranza-Plotters to be Watched.

Washington, Nov. 25.—There appears to be little doubt that the American Government will approve the principle of the protocol signed in Atlantic City yesterday by members of the Mexican-American joint commission, providing for conditional withdrawal of the American troops and for military control of the border. President Wilson and Secretary Lansing began the study of the protocol to-day and while no formal announcement will be made until they have considered all the details, other officials said the agreement followed the general ideas of the Administration.

The attitude of Gen. Carranza toward the agreement is considered here as more problematical. Alberto J. Pani, one of the Mexican members of the joint commission, will deliver it to him at Queretaro, and will make a supplementary explanation of the attitude of the American commissioners. The American members are hopeful that this explanation will impress Gen. Carranza, since a clear exposition of the intentions of the United States was made known.

Secretary Lane, who headed the American commissioners, was back at his desk at the Interior Department to-day, but made no plans to see President Wilson. He probably will discuss Mexico with him Monday or Tuesday, but formal action by the Administration will not be hurried because of the time required for Mr. Pani to reach Queretaro.

Officials display a determination to deal firmly with the Mexican question, no matter what attitude Gen. Carranza takes toward the agreement. They are hopeful, however, that he will approve it.

One development of the Atlantic City conference regarded here as significant of better relations between the two countries was a promise by the American commissioners that those suspected of plotting against the Carranza de facto Government in this country will be closely watched by the United States Government and rigidly punished if it is found they are attempting to violate neutrality.

LARGEST VOTE EVER
CAST IN KENTUCKY

With only Rowan in the Ninth, Knott in the Tenth district, and Clay in the Eleventh, still out, President Wilson's plurality in Kentucky over Hughes is 26,557. Of the missing counties Rowan and Clay are always counted as Republican, and Knott as Democratic, so that the Wilson plurality will be somewhat smaller than shown on the figures already in, but will hardly be less than 26,000.

The total vote in the State on the figures already in is 499,325, and with the four missing counties included, will run over 500,000, the largest vote ever cast in the State.

The vote by districts follows:

District	Wilson	Hughes
First	30,460	16,357
Second	24,345	20,128
Third	22,595	21,228
Fourth	25,298	23,226
Fifth	28,840	28,386
Sixth	27,045	14,859
Seventh	29,103	19,450
Eighth	21,492	18,195
Ninth	30,003	25,902
Tenth	10,167	16,531
Eleventh	13,593	32,192

Total 262,941 236,534
Wilson's majority 26,557
*Knott still out.
*Clay still out.
*Rowan still out.

Thank You, Responds the Victor.

SERUM TO CURE CANCER
FOUND BY DR. C. SATER

After two years of indefatigable labor, sometimes bending over the microscope 18 hours out of the 24, Dr. Clifford Sater, of this city, declares he has isolated the micro-organism which causes cancer and developed the serum that will cure it.

He is ready to demonstrate his findings, but for the present is unwilling to give his cure to the world until he has proved its efficacy beyond the peradventure of a doubt.

When seen yesterday at his office, 510 Richmond street, Cincinnati, Dr. Sater said: "During the year 1914 I began the study of cancer. Any close observer must admit that the cancerous growth must arise from infection."

"The many cases developing in different members of a family are not the result of heredity, but probably are due to family strains, similar environments with dietary and social habits, playing their role as predisposing factors tending to increase susceptibility, while trauma, laceration, ulceration, erosions or abrasions are fertile areas for the real infecting agent of cancer to find an entrance, lingering or remaining latent until the age when the vital forces begin to wane before manifesting itself."

"Cancer is caused by a specific micro-organism, and is constantly present in all true cancers from which I have isolated this organism, from every piece of true cancerous tissue which I have been able to secure since my original isolation."

"This organism will reproduce cancer in many and susceptible animals, rabbits being the ones used for experimental work. The character of cancer depends upon various factors which enter into every case in determining whether a given case will be an acute encephaloid, a chronic scirrhus, an adeno-carcinoma or otherwise, but the cause is the same in all cases—that is, the same organism is always present, but the state of health of the individual, the amount of vitality, the resistance or susceptibility to invasion, the site of infection or inoculation, &c., are features that must be taken into consideration in looking forward in cancer work."

"To cure cancer means to destroy the invading organism, to cause resorption of the infiltration."

Dies At Age Of 92.

Monday's Courier-Journal says: Death has closed the career of the Rev. Dr. Walker Ellis Powers, personal friend of Abraham Lincoln and one of the historic figures in the Baptist Church of Kentucky. His death occurred yesterday at the home of his son, Dr. James Powers, at Fairfield, Nelson county, Kentucky, and followed a three weeks' illness of pneumonia. Dr. Powers was 92 years old.

His active work in the Baptist Church in Kentucky dates back to the time when he was ordained a minister. While still a young preacher he was elected moderator of the Long Run Association in 1880, and each successive year thereafter until 1915—he was re-elected to the office. He was an able orator and often was sent to the Southern Baptist Convention to represent his particular association. At these conventions he was made vice president.

Can't Be Sued.

The Confederate Home is not a corporation which can sue and be sued, and its property belongs to the Commonwealth, said the Court of Appeals in an opinion by Commissioner Clay affirming the Nelson Circuit Court, which sustained a demurrer to the petition of Annie L. Norwood, against the Confederate Home. She sued for damages, alleging that a sewer from the institution polluted the water of the South Fork of Harrods creek. The court said to hold the property of the institution liable to execution to satisfy a judgment for damages would be equivalent to permitting the Commonwealth to be sued.

Good Night, New York.

Winning an election without New York was a dream of the Democrats, merely a dream. But it has come true. It spells more than temporary success. It means the elimination of the Tammany gang. The boss will no longer be a god. His power is broken, his glory gone. The hope is fostered in every patriotic heart that the municipal elections next spring will bury Tammany so deep that it will never again be even the subject of dreams.

Directory Of Kentucky Breeders. The State Department of Agriculture is preparing a revised edition of a "Directory of Kentucky Breeders of Pure Bred Live Stock," and would appreciate anyone who desires his name to appear in same to write the Department direct.

This little bulletin has proven a popular one and is mailed not only throughout Kentucky but to other States as many requests are continually coming to the Department for same. It has served to bring before the public where the best foundation stock can be found in this State, hence the great necessity of being accurate as possible in its compilation and it is the Department's desire to omit no name in this revised edition of any breeder of pure bred live stock in the State. If any breeder who has not already been in communication with the Department of Agriculture in regard to this will notify Mr. S. Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture, Frankfort, Ky., giving name, address and kind of pure bred stock he raises, his name will be included in this directory, thus enabling the Department to make a complete and up-to-date revision of same.

Trial Continued.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Nov. 25.—Because twenty-seven witnesses for the defense were absent, the Ella Monroe murder trial, called to-day in the Hardin Circuit Court, was continued until March 6. The girl, accused of the murder of Eva Gregory, at Solway, is out on $2,500 bond. More than 150 witnesses were recognized for their appearance in March.

SAYS CURE LIES WITH TEACHERS

Logan Refers School Book Contractors To Them.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 23.—The State adoption of textbooks includes not only the subject matter of the books, but the books themselves, and school trustees and teachers who permit books to be procured in an improper way or through an improper channel are subject to penalty, Attorney General Logan said in an opinion given State Superintendent V. O. Gihbert.

The contracts call for the sale of textbooks at a stipulated price and through accredited dealers. In some places concerns which purchased old books, cleaned and rebound them, have opened stores in opposition to accredited dealers. The contractors have demanded that the State institute proceedings to protect them; but Attorney General Logan said the way to do that is to hold the local school authorities responsible and require them to prohibit the use of the unauthorized books.

Contractors stated that their profits are reduced on account of the increased cost of material and they cannot stand this competition. Of course, a book that has been bought through the regular channel can pass through as many hands as may be and not lose its identity as an adopted textbook, but the ruling is aimed at concerns which offer for sale rebound books in active competition with State contractors.

Gen. Logan's Opinion.

The opinion of Attorney General Logan follows:

"It appears that second-hand books, in some instances of the same character as those contracted for with the companies, are being sold in the State and used in the schools. You desire to know whether these second-hand books may be legally sold and used as textbooks in the schools.

"As I understand the textbook law, it provides that the Textbook Commission shall enter into a contract with book companies to furnish textbooks to the pupils in the State. A second-hand dealer would not have the right under the law to interfere with the rights of the contractors. The books which the schools must use are those called for in the contract and furnished by the contracting companies, and books cannot be procured legally in any other way.

"There seems to be no provision in the law which would prohibit any dealer from purchasing second-hand books and selling them to the patrons. The second-hand books may not be up to the requirements. They may be of old editions and when sold in a community the book company must suffer the blame which attaches to the furnishing of inferior books. In addition to this it interferes with the contractual rights of the contracting parties that have agreed to furnish the textbooks to the State of Kentucky.

"While there may not be any penalty against a dealer selling these books, there is a penalty against books, there is a penalty against teachers and school boards using books other than those regularly adopted. The law provides that certain dealers shall be designated in each county and that the books shall be sold at not exceeding a certain price. If the teacher or the school board permits the use of books procured in an improper way or through an improper channel they are subject to a penalty. The only remedy that I know would be prosecution against the teachers and the school boards who permit this practice."

Refuses To Be Photographed.

Missoula, Mont., Nov. 25.—No more pictures are to be taken by moving picture men and press photographers in the first woman to be elected to the United States Congress, according to her decision to-day.

"I positively refuse to allow myself to be photographed, and will not leave the house while there is a camera man on the premises," said Miss Rankin. The block in which she lives is patrolled by camera men. Republican leaders of the State, it is said, warned Miss Rankin that the publicity she was receiving might class her as a freak. It was at this suggestion the decision was made not to have any photographs taken for newspapers and moving pictures.

Will Soon Be Raised.

New York, Nov. 15.—The old four-story house in Twentieth street, in which Col. Theodore Roosevelt was born October 27, 1858, is to be torn down to make room for a modern business place, it was announced to-day. Several years ago the Roosevelt Home Club was organized with $1 membership fee to preserve the building as a place of historic interest, but owing to the lapse of payments on a mortgage the property was recently sold under foreclosure.

ADAMSON LAW DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Kansas City, Nov. 22.—The Adamson law was held unconstitutional here to-day by Judge William C. Hook in the United States District Court. The court made it plain the decision was not based after mature consideration of the merits of the case, but expediency was desired by all parties interested because of the necessity of a final decision by the Supreme Court of the United States before January, when the law is effective.

Villa Himself Captured Parral.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 22.—Villa himself with 4,000 to 5,000 troops was in possession of Parral when the last courier to reach his party far in the mountains brought word of happenings in Parral to T. G. Hawkins, Jr., who fled that settlement at the bandit leader's approach. Hawkins told of this here to-day on his way back to Parral, where he declared he was optimistic of finding safe the American residents often reported slain.

With Hawkins were Leslie Webb and Bernard McDonald. Whether they also will return to Parral is not known. The three were members of a party which traveled on horseback to Culiacan, Sinaloa, when they learned Villa was approaching Parral.

159 Killed in Wreck.

Laredo, Tex., Nov. 25.—One hundred and fifty-nine persons were killed and many more or less seriously injured in a railroad wreck on the Inter-Oceanic line to Vera Cruz, between Dehesa and San Miguel, Jalapa, on November 12, according to reliable reports received here to-night. The wreck is said to have been due to the engineer running at too high a rate of speed over a dangerous part of the road.

According to this information all but one of the five cars of the train left the track and rolled over a cliff. The passengers were literally ground to pieces. No Americans were among the dead, it was said. Among the killed are said to have been a widow and her seven small children.

Plunged To His Death.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 22.—From injuries sustained in a fall from a four-story window in the Hotel Slinnott early this morning Dr. Louis C. Menard, 25 years old, a veterinarian of Smithland, Ky., died a few hours later at Riverside Hospital. He fell from a window in the bathroom, where he was bathing, and is supposed to have fallen in raising the window after becoming nauseated. Dr. Menard told the attending physician he did not remember anything after turning on the hot water. Groaning and suffering from many injuries, he was found about 3 o'clock this morning by patrolmen. Dr. Menard was a native of this county and unmarried.

Audience in a Panic.

Kansas City, Nov. 25.—A trained lioness which escaped from her cage in a theater in Kansas City, Kan., frightened Miss Jeannette Rankin more than 300 persons to flee in panic. So great was the force of the crowd as it rushed for safety that the front and sides of the one-story building were pushed out and a score of persons were injured. The trainer and several policemen caged the animal before she could attack the audience.

A Little Hasty, Think You?

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 22.—President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, was asked what possible bearing the decision to-day of Federal Judge Hook, declaring unconstitutional the Adamson eight-hour law, might have on the stand of the federation.

"We are looking to the railroad brotherhoods to see that the eight-hour day goes into effect January 1, law or no law," he said emphatically.

The Right Spirit.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Col. Andrew Cowan, of Louisville, and Col. Myron M. Parker and Corporal James Tanner, of this city, all veterans of the Union army in the war between the States, were made honorary members of Camp 71, United Confederate Veterans of Washington, at a meeting held at Confederate Memorial Home here to-night.

EMPEROR FRANCIS JOSEPH AGED MONARCH PASSED

Away As Though He was Sinking
Into A Restful
Sleep.

London, Nov. 22.—Arrangements for the burial of the late Emperor Francis Joseph have not yet been made, says a Vienna dispatch to Reuter, but the body will be interred in Capuchin mausoleum next week, probably Thursday. Monday it will be removed from Schoenbrunn castle to Hofburg chapel, where it will lie in state Tuesday and Wednesday.

Vienna, Nov. 22.—The death of Emperor Francis Joseph was peaceful. The aged monarch passed away as though sinking into sleep. Among those in the death chamber of Schoenbrunn castle was the heir apparent, Arch Duke Charles Francis Joseph.

Amsterdam, Nov. 22 (via London).—Emperor Francis Joseph on Monday evening for the first time went to bed earlier than usual. The first part of the night to 1 o'clock passed undisturbed. Then attacks of coughing began. During the daylight yesterday feverish symptoms showed a threatening change for the worse and in the afternoon an aggravation set in which resulted in the death of the aged monarch.

Archduchess Marie Valerie, who had remained constantly at her father's deathbed, had gone to the Western railroad station shortly before 8 o'clock to meet her daughter who was returning to Vienna from the royal chateau at Wallsee.

The archduchess, however, immediately was recalled by court officials to Schoenbrunn as, after her departure, all hope of the emperor living through the night had disappeared and shortly after her return his majesty breathed his last.

Despite the evening bulletin which left no doubt about the emperor's serious condition, the people of Vienna still maintained their firm belief in his power of recuperation and the news of his death, published about 11 o'clock, had an absolutely paralyzing effect on the public, who could hardly credit. All amusements were at once suspended.

The death of the emperor was caused by a cold which the aged monarch caught while walking in Schoenbrunn park ten days ago with the king of Bavaria, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Parisien. The cold developed into pneumonia of the right lung.

The December Woman's Home Companion.

This Christmas number of the Woman's Home Companion is filled with good things. It is almost a fiction number for there are fine stories by such well known authors as Eleanor Hallowell Abbott who begins the first part of a two-part novel; Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, Elsie Singmaster, Margaret Widdemer and Mary Heaton Vorse.

The special articles are interesting, especially the one by Arnold Bennett called "Who Is the Rich Man." An article called "Play Producing for Amateurs" gives many valuable hints and "Deciding What to Make" is also helpful. Then there are the various departments which have devoted themselves to Christmas advice and suggestions. The fashions, cooking, picture section and all the others are filled with suggestions and plans for Christmas.

CHAIRMAN HERT CONGRATULATES WILSON

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 22.—Alvin T. Hert, who was the Western chairman of the Republican National committee, when informed that Hughes had congratulated Wilson, said to-night:

"I desire to heartily congratulate the President and his party upon the result. Of course I would have had the end otherwise, but Wilson has been re-elected and will four years longer hold the office of President of the United States. For the nation I wish the best fruits of administration and for the President his success."

KENTUCKY TURKEY TO GRACE WILSON'S TABLE

When President Wilson sits down to dinner on Thanksgiving day he will be confronted by a piece of resistance in the shape of a forty-three pound Bourbon county, Ky., gobbler. The turkey, raised on a Bourbon county farm, was purchased on a special order from South Trimble, of Frankfort, Clerk of the United States House of Representatives in Washington. For many years past he has, each Thanksgiving, furnished the turkey for the President's table. This bird is an especially fine one and will be shipped to the White House early in the coming week.

GUNS FOR AMERICAN BATTLESHIP WORLD'S LARGEST

Washington, Nov. 22.—Battle-ships authorized this year will carry the most powerful guns of which the navy has any authentic information. Rear Admiral Strauss, Chief of Ordnance, told the House Navy Committee to-day he expected to complete and prove a sixteen-inch 50-caliber gun early next year.

"We have a very good sixteen-inch 45-caliber gun," he said, "but the 50-caliber weapon will be the largest gun in the world of which we have any authentic information. We wish to build and prove the new gun, however, before adopting it for new ships."

Four battleships, bids for which soon will be awarded by the Navy Department, each will carry eight sixteen-inch 45-caliber guns. The three ships Congress is expected to authorize this winter each will carry twelve sixteen-inch 50-caliber guns if the department's hopes are carried out. Admiral Strauss said the 50-caliber gun would weigh 128 tons, as against 100 tons for the 45-caliber weapon, and will have a greater penetrating force and range.

The forgings for the trial 50-caliber gun already have been ordered and it will be manufactured at the naval factory here.

NATION'S POPULATION OVER 102,826,000

Washington, Nov. 24.—Population of continental United States on January 1, 1917, will be 102,826,309, and with its outlying possessions 113,309,285, the Census Bureau estimates, upon the increase as shown by the Federal census of 1900 and 1910. Treasury Department statisticians, using a different method of calculation, estimated the population of continental United States as 103,002,000 on November 1.

Kentucky's population on January 1, 1917, will be 2,386,866, according to the estimate made by the Census Bureau. The estimate is based upon the increase as shown by the Federal censuses of 1900 and 1910. On January 1, 1916, Kentucky's population was estimated to be 2,372,412, and on July 1 it was thought to be 2,379,639. The growth of the State's population is a healthy one, the figures of the Census Bureau show.

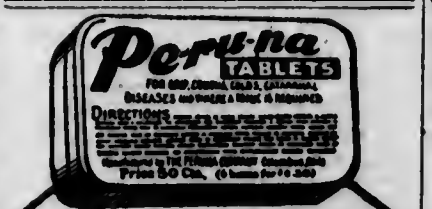

BRYAN TO DISCUSS MORAL ISSUES ONLY

New York, Nov. 23.—William Jennings Bryan has given up attempting to solve economic problems, and hereafter will devote himself to moral issues, he declared here to-day in an address before the Rotary Club.

The tariff, he said, was discussed a hundred years before he took it up, "with all the zeal of a young man," and probably would be discussed for another hundred years, but as to the moral question, when that is "settled it stays settled, and I expect quicker and more satisfactory results from my efforts."

An Attorney Suspended.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 25.—Judgment of the Jefferson Circuit Court suspending Attorney William A. Heck from practice for twelve months, on a charge that he "wrongfully failed and refused on demand to pay over money he had collected for a client," was affirmed by the Court of Appeals in an opinion by Judge Carroll. The judgment was entered in proceedings by Dr. S. I. Battiste.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE

One Of Interest To Our Readers.

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Madisonville man is confirmed after four years.

H. T. Howard, Madisonville, Ky., says: "I was annoyed by attacks of lame back and pains across my loins for fully two years. I was certain there was something the matter with my kidneys and I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They were the first medicine that gave me relief."

Results That Remain.

Over four years later Mr. Howard said: "I haven't had occasion to use a kidney medicine in five years and I gladly confirm my former endorsement."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Howard has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WEAPONS OF WAR

Deadly Devices Used by Warriors In Ancient Times.

THE JAVELINS OF CAESAR.

They Turned the Tide of Battle in One of His Gallic Campaigns—The Famous Greek Wet Fire and the First Use of Gunpowder and Cannon.

"Reviewing the history of warfare among civilized nations," says a Geographic Society Bulletin, "one of the earliest engines of destruction whose fame has been perpetuated on the pages of legendary epic was the great wooden horse which the crafty Ulysses left on the plains of Ilium and which the Trojans believed to be an offering sacred to the goddess Athena. Convinced by the false Sinon, the Trojans razed their walls in order that the 'gift' of the Greeks might be brought into the city. After midnight the warriors hidden inside the wooden animal crept out, threw open the gates of the city and admitted their companions, thus bringing about the destruction of the city of Priam and wreaking vengeance upon the people who had sheltered Paris and the fair but false Helen of Troy."

"An engine of war which emerges from the cloud of legend and takes its place among historical actualities was that employed by Alexander the Great in his seven months' siege of the famous, Phoenician metropolis, Tyre. This ancient city was strongly situated on an island, and as there were no long range catapults in the fourth century before the Christian era, Alexander conceived the plan of building a mole or causeway from the mainland to the island. This engineering enterprise was hampered by the Tyrians, who launched blazing ships against the assailants as they sunk piles to hold in place the rock and debris that formed a roadway over which the army was to march. In order to protect his construction corps Alexander devised an engine of war, great towers covered with green hides. These were set up as shields against the floating flames of the enemy, and the result was one of the memorable victories in Alexander's conquest of the eastern world."

"One of the simplest and yet one of the most effective inventions of ancient times was the javelin with a point of soft iron employed by Julius Caesar in one of his Gallic wars. The Roman legionaries hurled these weapons against the shields of their enemies. The iron head penetrated the outer coverings of bull's hide, but flattened out against the hard wood or metal back of the shield, and thus became hooked to this protector. The shafts of the dangling javelins so impeded the movements of the barbarian soldiers that they were forced either to throw away their shields and fight uncovered against the Romans or else stop long enough (a fatal delay in their advance) to disencumber themselves from this unique weapon, which may properly be called the dudum plum, the progenitor of the soft nose or dudum bullets of today."

"Greek fire is a term which has been applied to various compounds through a succession of centuries going as far back as 424 B. C., when at the siege of Delium a caldron filled with sulphur, pitch and charcoal was placed against the walls of the city, ignited and the flames intensified by a bellows attached to a hollow tree trunk. The most famous of the Greek fires, however, was that invented by the architect Callinicus during the reign of Constantine the Paganus. This particular engine of destruction was known as wet fire on account of its property of bursting into flame when wetted. Thrown from siphons, it fell upon the ships of the Saracens, causing them to burst into flames, and thus Constantinople was saved to the Byzantine emperors for the time being (678 A. D.)."

"Probably more far-reaching in its effect than any other engine of war was the introduction of gunpowder on the battlefield. It was one of the most potent factors contributing to the overthrow of the great feudal system, for it destroyed the superiority of the armored knight over the yeoman foot soldier and, as Carlyle rightly said, 'It made all men of the same height.' Following the use of gunpowder in small arms came the invention and development of the cannon, a weapon which was employed with destructive effect against the walls of Constantinople when this historic city finally fell into the hands of the Mohammedans in 1453."

"The aeroplane, the Zeppelin and the submarine have been developed gradually in times of peace preparatory for war and are the products of many minds. Not so the ironclad Merrimac and the turreted Monitor, which appeared suddenly and almost simultaneously on the horizon of naval warfare during the American war."

When Niagara Falls Went Dry.

Niagara falls has on occasion run dry. In fact, this phenomenon has occurred several times with the American falls. In the winter of 1903-4 the water in the eastern part of Lake Erie and the Niagara river was forced back by a strong wind and fell several feet. Ice floating in the river formed an ice jam, which cut off the water, and the American falls went dry. This same phenomenon, according to reliable information, occurred again in 1900.

The three things most difficult are to keep a secret, to forget an injury and to make good use of leisure.

NAUTICAL NANTUCKET.

Its Common Use of Sea Terms and a Master Mariner's Will.

Nantucket probably has a higher average to the inhabitant of funny yarns, queer sayings, odd views of life and also of local pride and assurance than any other place in America.

Nantucket speech is a museum of nautical expressions. When a Nantucketer has luck he is running before the wind. To scud is to hasten, and one who becomes involved in his statement is off his soundings. "Masthead" means any point high up. Any one who is quite flattened out in health is "keel out." "I've been keel out for a week with the grip." Whaling terms come in here, too, for when a man says he is "pretty high in out" he means that he is "all in"—in reference to the fact that the dying whale rolls over on his side, showing a fin above water. "Tending the kettle balyrgs" means with women simply doing the housework. When a man gets excited in argument he is told to "ease off." When your guest departs you say, "Well, a fair wind to you." Every figure is derived from the sea.

When Obed Gardner, master mariner, wrote his will in 1841 he worded it as follows, and it held fast:

Item, I have cruised with my wife, Huldryd Jane, since 1811. We signed articles, in town, before the preacher on Independence day. I want her and my son, Jonathan, to be captain and mate in bringing to port whatever I leave and to see that every one of the crew gets the lay as writ down on this paper. I put mother in command. I know sheet be captain anyway, for six months after we started on our life cruise. I found out that I was mate and she was master. I don't mean that she ever mutinied, but I know that whenever we didn't agree she always maneuvered to windward.

Item, I want mother to have the house on Union street till she goes aloft. Then I want it to go to the children in equal lays, etc.

As for whaling, a Nantucketer boy tied one end of his mother's darning cotton to a steel fork and tried to harpoon the family cat. As the animal sought to escape mother entered the room and picked up the ball. "Pay out, mother; pay out!" screamed the boy. "There she sounds through the window!"—Boston Transcript.

WASHING FURNITURE.

Easy to Restore Tarnished Pieces to Original Freshness.

"Very few people know that furniture ought to be washed," said a salesman in the furniture section of a large department store. "Yet," he continued, "it is the best thing one can do to keep furniture looking as well as it should."

"One should take a basin of tepid rainwater and make a suds with a good pure soap. Then with a soft piece of cheesecloth all the woodwork should be washed. It is astonishing how much dirt will come off. A second piece of cheesecloth should be wrung dry out of hot water. On this should be poured a tablespoonful of first class furniture polish. The heat will spread the polish through the cloth. Next the furniture should be gone over with the second cloth."

"There will be no need of putting on more polish, for that much will be all one needs. Too many persons make the mistake of using too much polish and leaving it thick on the furniture, where it looks dauby and where it gathers more dirt."

There is furniture in homes today that is cast off because of its appearance when it might be brought back to its original freshness by this simple process of washing. Many persons do not know that a thin bit of mahogany is improved by careful washing, and hundreds of pianos have never been more than dusted in years. A square of cheesecloth for the washing and another for the polishing will do the work, and the result will well repay the effort.—Indianapolis News.

His Point of View.

"The examples of slum children's ignorance are as incredible as they are innumerable," said a social worker.

"A farmer's wife pointed out to a slum urchin a flock of birds winging their way across the evening sky."

"Oh, look at the pretty birds," she said.

"Poor things!" said the urchin. "Poor little things! They ain't got no cages, have they?"—Washington Star.

Money Value of Discoveries.

If we count the wealth of North America and South America as it seems today, we find that the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus has been worth to the world $3,000,000 a day from the time he sailed from Palos in August, 1492, down to the present time. Likewise, the man who discovered the way of drawing tungsten wire gave $300,000,000 worth of light yearly.—Popular Science Monthly.

The Prize Ring.

The reason why the inclosure in which boxers have their fist encounters is called a ring, when it is really square in shape, is because the spectators at the prizefights in the open days, which took place in the open country, used to stand round in a ring to look on.—London Telegraph.

"Ye must take care of that cold, Mrs. Green. Yer want to git a pen-north of ukertipus from the chemist, put it in a jug of holling water, 'old yer 'ead over it and ignore it."—Toronto Saturday Night.

"You say your husband is deaf?"

"Yes, but he can read lip language. I can't call him mean things. Just have to think them, the same as any other wife."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WHAT ONE SEES IN HOLLAND.

Many Things, of Course, but Mostly Black and White Cows.

And what does one see in Holland? Black and white cows—black and white cows in small squares of green pasture; windmills, innumerable perfect vegetable gardens, black and white cows; narrow canals where fences ought to be and which the black and white cows seem never to cross without permission; women and girls in adorable Dutch costumes or in hideous mists of modern garments; black and white cows; ten thousand models of the "Man With the Hoe" in ten thousand flower hedged gardens; windmills and church spires against the low sky line, Dutch Reformed church spires mostly and nothing much to speak of, but with hundreds of black and white cows in the foreground.

Long slips of canal crowded with ugly or quaint craft of various kinds and lined with primly set rows of stately trees or with high gabled, red roofed, red brick houses; in village squares acres of red and yellow and purple cheese-patch, in certain sections, if the season is right, fields upon fields of low growing, wonderful flowers but principally black and white cows in small squares and oblongs of green pasture.

Broad, open meadows? Perfectly forested acres sheltering wild things of the earth and sky? Uplands and lowlands? Wide, wasteful rivers running loose in a riotous sunlight? No, nothing like that in Holland. The Dutch cheese is a same little cheese, all slick and firm and blakely colored. That is Holland. Why is it that, wherever you go in the wide, wide world, from the islands of the south seas to the lands of the all summer sun, you can nearly always get an Edam cheese?

The answer is that there are three million and some hundred odd thousands of black and white cows in Holland, a cow, at least, for every two persons—man, woman and child. There are sheep and goats and pigs as well, but they are not so conspicuous in the landscape.—Eleanor F. Egan to Saturday Evening Post.

MILK SHOULD BE EATEN.

When Swallowed Rapidly It Is Hard and Slow to Digest.

Milk, fresh from the homestead, with its rich store of vitamins and enzymes, with the finest quality of protein for brain and muscle building, salts to stiffen the bony framework and to brighten the vital fires of the body, is a natural product. Not only is it not improved by the art of cookery, but it is actually damaged by it and rendered incapable of supplying in the highest degree those subtle elements which are essential to good nutrition.

A word should be said about how to take milk. It should be eaten, not swallowed as a beverage.

All foods need to be masticated. The calf and the nursing infant chew milk. The movements of the jaws and the sucking movements executed by an infant in nursing induces an abundant flow of saliva, which, mixed with the milk, properly dilutes it and to a high degree promotes its digestion.

Milk when swallowed rapidly as a beverage is likely to form in the stomach large and hard curds, which are very slowly digested. Many persons who suffer from taking milk in this way imagine themselves to be unable to take milk and so abandon its use.

Milk should be sipped slowly and with a sucking movement of the throat, so as to secure a liberal admixture of saliva. By this means the formation of hard, indigestible curds may be prevented.

Milk also must be taken in right quantities and in right combinations. It cannot be denied that milk digests better when taken by itself or in very simple combinations than when mixed with a large quantity of other food-stuffs.—Dr. J. H. Kellogg in Good Health.

Growsome Craft.

There is a little boat on the East river, New York, known as the Fidelity, which is the official funeral barge of 5,700 persons a year. Every morning, rain or shine, it steams up the East river on its daily run of the vast city hospitals and institutions. Bodies of those who have died are returned to the morgue to be left from seven to ten days waiting for a claimant. There are about 120 in each, 480 a month, or an average of 5,700 a year.

Floundering in Pronouns.

Attention is often directed to the incredible cockney "derangement" of pronouns. There is a provincialism that flounders among the personal pronouns. An assize court witness in a case arising from a brawl when asked what she knew about it replied, "Well, her fadd I to lift she," and counsel remarked, "Her did, did her?" Naught unabashed, witness added, with confidence, "And then her came at we."—London Globe.

A Full Man.

"Men are like wagons," remarked the man who dispenses aphorisms. "They make the most noise when empty."

"Your trolley is off the wire," rejoined the contrary person. "A man makes the most noise when he is full."—Indianapolis Star.

Why He Was Good.

"Is he a good after dinner speaker?"

"Splendid! He never talks more than five minutes, and when he gets through he makes you feel that you could have done much better."—Life.

Man and His Weight.

A well proportioned man should weigh two and one-third pounds for every inch of his height.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

BEAVER DAM.

Nov. 27.—We are having a number of deals in real estate in this vicinity of late. Mr. Elvis Smith has sold his farm in Union neighborhood, to Mr. Hanes, of Mississippi, and has bought the farm of Mr. Ferguson, located two miles from town on the Morgantown pike. Mr. Ferguson will move to Daviess county and Mr. L. C. Leach has sold his farm located near Sanderfur's Crossing, to Mr. Mallin, of McLean county. Mr. Leach will move to the oil fields in Louisiana. If any one in this vicinity has a farm for sale all he has to do is to let it be known and he will soon have a purchaser.

Mr. Adams, of Lettichfield, has been in town for the past week buying poultry and from the high prices he is paying we don't think there will be many left for the spring delivery.

We wonder if the election of President Wilson has caused the business boom of late in our town.

If the fair weather continues another week and they can get rock they will likely have the new pike completed as far out as the Cates hill. When it is completed it will be one of the best roads in the State. Something that Ohio county will be proud of. The Cates hill has always been a handicap to the people from the southern part of the county—coming to Beaver Dam; but they now have it graded down till there is no hill there.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church will give an entertainment Thanksgiving evening at the Opera House in Beaver Dam for the benefit of their church. The play they will exhibit will be a scene in the Union Depot. It will be an interesting entertainment for the young people.

Mrs. Ella Turner and daughter, Miss Pearl, of Livermore, are visiting her sister, Mrs. Doc Maddox, of South Beaver Dam, this week.

Mr. J. M. Kirkwood, of Dawson Springs, Ky., visited his daughter, Mrs. Ed Stum, a few days last week.

Miss Mabel Murry, who has been visiting her brother in Herrin, Ill., the past week, has returned home.

OLATON.

Nov. 26.—We had a good rain Wednesday night and Thursday, was badly needed. Farmers are busy gathering corn. Yield good and selling at 75 cents per bushel.

We don't see how the laboring class can live with the present price of wages and the high cost of living. Flour $16 per barrel and meal 90 cents per bushel, Irish potatoes $1.50 per bushel; meat 12 to 23 cents per pound; lard 20 cents per pound. We think an embargo should be placed on foodstuffs until another crop is made.

I noticed the Green River pool of tobacco has been sold at prices from $12 to $5 per hundred. That looks high for the weed, but many of the older citizens remember that during our Civil War, from 1860 to 1864, tobacco sold in Ohio county from $25 to $30 per hundred. When in 1859 it sold for $1.50 to $2.00 per hundred. During that war factory cotton sold for 85¢ per yard, coffee 75¢ to $1.00 per pound. Soon after sugar sold 10¢ per pound, flour $5 per barrel, meal 50¢ per bushel, meat from 2½ to 3½¢ net per ewt, during that war a majority of the people used parched wheat and rye as a substitute for coffee.

Rev. Ferrell filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church here Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Oscar Godsey, son of John Godsey, of near Olaton, and Miss Clara Martin went to Hartford and were married Saturday, Nov. 18th.

Mr. C. D. Beau, of Sulphur Springs, who had been visiting in Olaton for several days, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. James Stinson and three children of Greenville, is at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Henry Stevens, who is yet very ill.

If whiskey could be kept from Olaton we would have a quiet little town. Hope to soon see the day when it will cease to come here.

Rabbits and quail have suffered since Nov. 18th. P. L. Patterson has shipped 375 rabbits so far this season. E. M. Hoover has shipped a like number, making 750; from which they realize $93.75.

DENDEL.

Nov. 27.—Rev. Birch Shields closed a 10-days meeting here last Thursday night. Several additions to the church—five were baptized by immersion. Mr. George Jones was the leader of the singing for the meeting.

Rev. J. T. Rushing held his quarterly meeting here last Saturday and Sunday. Our pastor is S. M.

Bailey, who seems to enjoy the work.

Mr. Barney Johnson and Miss Lizzie Whobrey were married at the residence of Rev. Tom Medcalfe, who performed the ceremony, last week.

Mrs. Josie Renfrow, from Sunnydale, visited her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Acton, Saturday and Sunday and attended the quarterly meeting.

Mr. Virgil Renfrow, who has been on the sick list, is out again.

CLEAR RUN.

Nov. 27.—Miss Tabitha Kirk and Mr. Joe Tom Taylor were quietly married at the home of the bride Sunday, November the 12th.

The trunk line was run from Taffy exchange to Hartford last week and most folks are making good use of it.

Rev. Dunkins has moved with his family into the parsonage of Mt. Moriah church.

The wife of Mr. Fred Lake, who has been dangerously ill with diphtheria, is slowly improving.

Mr. George Kirk died at his home Wednesday the 23d of stomach trouble. His remains were laid to rest in Barnett's Creek cemetery Thursday.

Mr. Clyde Funk and wife are visiting relatives at Sunnydale.

Miss Cova Kirk was the guest of her cousin, Miss Lena Henry, of Barnett's Creek, Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. W. Taylor, of Batzertown, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Patton and children Saturday night. Sunday School at this place is progressing nicely.

SMALLHOUS.

Nov. 27.—Messrs. Harry and Chester, Elener and Lucian Bullock have returned home after a few months absence in Illinois.

Drs. Taylor, of Hartford, and J. L. Smith, Centertown, were in our midst recently at Mr. John Edmonson's to see Mr. Edmonson's little girl, who is a leted with something like infantile paralysis.

Mr. J. R. Hunter was the recipient of a nice Stevens rifle Monday, presented by his nephew, W. C. Overhults, of Cedaredge, Colorado.

Miss Ethel Hunter is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. S. Trunnell, and brother, Mr. R. D. Hunter, at Utica. We failed to get The Herald this week and missed it very much.

Mrs. Sue Morton is a guest of relatives at Livermore.

Rev. Rayburn filled his regular appointment at Equality church last Sunday.

Rev. Birch Shields failed to fill his regular appointment at Smallhouse Baptist church Saturday p. m., and Sunday a. m. He was sick.

Mrs. M. P. Maddox will spend this week the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Hill, near South Carrollton.

Mr. Jesse Hill will attend court at Hartford this week.

BARRETT'S FERRY.

Nov. 27.—We extend to The Herald force our deepest sympathy in their hour of bereavement over the loss of their able editor, Mr. Heber Matthews.

Mrs. James Thomas, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is expected to live but a few hours longer.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Foreman of Hartford, are at the bedside of their daughter, Mrs. Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foreman, of Dayton, O., and Mrs. Anna Foreman, of Louisville, reached here Sunday night to be at the bedside of Mrs. Thomas.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Boswell has bronchial pneumonia.

Mr. J. P. Harl, who has been sick for several weeks, is able to be up most of the time.

Mr. Alex Boswell received a very painful injury last Saturday while hauling logs to Narrows. His left hand was crushed and torn.

Mr. Fred Bolling is suffering from blood poison caused by a small piece of steel entering his hand.

Mrs. Ann Hurt has been suffering for some time from diseases incident to old age.

Mr. James Wilson and family have moved from near Pattiesville to Mrs. Sallie Harrison's place, near here.

Mrs. Slaughter Goodman and two children, of Penrose, Ark., are visiting Mrs. Goodman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Bratcher.

Mrs. Bush, of Irvington, is visiting her brother, Mr. James Thomas.

Mr. W. W. Lloyd is tearing down his old house preparatory to building a new one.

Mr. Clyde Magan is building a barn near his home.

The following named young men have gone to Indianapolis within the last few days: Murrell Grant, Joe Barrett, Rollie Foreman, Reed Hurt and Verne Grant. They expect to secure work there.

Two or three carloads of corn have been shipped from Davidson recently. The price paid was 80 and 81 cents per bushel.

Meat Held For Europe.

Boston, Nov. 25.—P. H. Mullowney, Deputy Health Commissioner, who has been conducting an investigation into the food supply, reported to Mayor Curley to-day that on November 23 there were 10,630,660 pounds of meat in storage, not one pound of which was intended for home consumption. Virtually the entire amount had been contracted for by the Entente Allies, and is awaiting the arrival of an Italian boat, according to Dr. Mullowney. After receiving the report the Mayor sent a letter to Congressman John J. Fitzgerald again urging the desirability of an embargo on the shipment of food. The Mayor pointed out that the supply of meat for home consumption was merely the amount in dealers' private refrigerating plants, which he estimated was sufficient to last four days.

The Petticoat Pinkerton Gives Chase
The woman detective in department stores never has time to think out a situation. She has to act. In the December American Magazine there is a story in which this passage occurs:

"Before the salesgirl could stop him, and before the floorwalker could walk the floor-length the advertising manager, with the frothy frippery flouncing and flapping under his arm, strode out of the department and reached the foot of the steps."

"But there he stopped and spun half about. A husky woman detective had executed a flying tackle and caught him by the collar."

"You would, would you?" she demanded.

"The advertising manager tugged at her fingers."

"Let go, you petticoat Pinkerton," he snarled, as he squirmed. "Don't you know who I am? I'm the advertising manager."

"She looked him over. Then she dropped him with an apology."

"I—I thought you was a counter-snatcher," she gasped."

Hunts Deer With Auto.

Henderson, Ky., Nov. 26.—After a chase of nearly eight miles in an auto, Carl and Will Dimplewolf captured a fine buck deer some miles above town last night. The men with their mother and sister had been to town and were returning home shortly before midnight, when at a point near their home the deer was seen, and they turned around and gave chase. The animal was captured in a lane eight miles from where the chase began. The deer will be on exhibition at the poultry show which opens here Wednesday night.

Oddities About Alphabets.

When the Portuguese first explored Brazil they made great fun of the natives of that country because they had in their alphabet no f, r or l—a people, the invaders declared, without fe, ley or re—without faith, law or king. The Mohawks, again, have no labials and vowed it was absurd when the missionaries tried to teach them to pronounce p and b, "for who," said they, "can speak with his mouth shut?"

Gore In Mexican Sport.

The Mexican peon with Spanish blood in his veins is nearly always fond of the sight of gore. At a Mexican cockpit the betting is faster and more furious than the fun at a three ring circus, and the enthusiasm is about as great when the steel spurred cocks cut one another to pieces as when a mad bull gores a horse to death in the bull ring.—National Geographic Magazine.

Modestly Defined.

"Father," said the small boy, "what's an explorer?"
"An explorer, my son, is a man who discovers some place that nobody wants to go to and that he wouldn't be able to find anyhow."—Washington Star.

Modesty.

Maud—Was she modest on her birthday? Edith—I should say so. She didn't put half as many candles on the cake as there should be.—Boston Globe.
